Redmen Open Winter Season Tuesday Night

About 80 people, including the members and their families and a few invited friends, enjoyed the first party of the winter season, given by the Redmen lodge Tuesday evening. Progressive whist was played at 14 tables until 10:30. The awarding of three of the four prizes had to be decided by cutting cards. Mrs. Gearing and Miss Rees were tied for ladies' first prize, Miss Rees drawing the winning card. Mrs. J. G. Grant and Mrs. Bidwell cut for the ladies' consolation and Mrs. Grant was winner. J. G. Grant was awarded the men's first prize without any further contest but Arnt Sorset obtained the men's consolation prize only by drawing a lower card from the deck than did Ellery Carlson. Supper was served in the dining room at three long tables after which dancing in the lower hall was indulged in for two hours. The committee in charge consisted of Sam Cunningham, chairman; Ole Johnson and M. O. Johnson.

Rev. Corser Preaches Sermon on Bishop Rowe

Rev. Corser delivered a Bishop Rowe sermon at St. Philip's last Sunday evening. It was 25 years November 30 since the Bishop was called from his parish in Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, to become Bishop of Alaska. Mr. Corser spoke of the hardships encountered, the dangerous routes by which the Bishop has traveled, his unselfishness and the undaunted spirit of the man as he has gradually widened the scope of his work and won friends everywhere. He has always sensed the means by which he could help the men with whom he came in contact and by meeting the needs of the various communities, a hospital here and a place where men could gather for decent sociability there,—he has won his way into their hearts and furthered the work of the Church. To commemorate the Bishop's 25 years of faithful service, an endowment fund of $100,000 is being raised all over the country. This fund will enable Bishop Rowe to carry on his work in Alaska without having to make frequent trips east to solicit funds. Financial worries and these trips to interest distant churches have often tried the Bishop more than the hazardous dog-sled travel which is a part of the work in the north. Mr. Corser explained that while the Wrangell church could do little to help this year, something will be attempted next year. Meanwhile, the Guild has given $25 to the fund with the promise of a larger amount later. Governor Riggs, Dean Christian of Juneau and others are members of the Endowment Fund committee.

A number of slides have been received in Wrangell from the Red Cross headquarters which will be used in connection with the nursing course that is being given here now. Miss Holland will show these slides at St. Philip's Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All the members of the various classes are expected to be present to see the pictures and anyone interested who is not a member of any class is cordially invited to come.

Monument for Pioneer

Following the death of Edward Ludecke on May 28 a petition was circulated among the people of Wrangell for the purpose of raising money to erect a monument for Mr. Ludecke's grave. The monument was ordered, but not received until recently.

Mayor J. G. Grant has handed the Sentinel the following statement relating to the monument of Edward Ludecke:

Subscription list	$155.50
Fourth of July fund	3.50
	$159.00
Headstone	$140.00
Freight and wharfage	7.00
Bert Tucker, labor and material	10.00
Transfer charges	2.00
	$159.00

Edward Ludecke was one of the original pioneers of Alaska, having come north as a United States soldier in 1867. He is said to have been a native of Germany. He was a resident of Wrangell for 39 years and had a host of friends here. In 1913 he was taken to the Pioneer Home at Sitka. It was his dying request that he be buried in Wrangell.

A meeting was called at the assembly room of the schoolhouse Monday evening to organize a choral society under the leadership of Mrs. Towers. Only a few ladies responded to the call owing to the great number of activities which are keeping Wrangell people busy at present. It was decided to wait till after the holidays to organize, in the hope that a number of people can be interested meanwhile. A choral club would be an asset to the community and those who are interested in it are anxious to get in touch with anyone who is sufficiently fond of music to wish to enter. It is not necessary to be a soloist in order to qualify for membership. While a ladies' trio or quartette may be organized by the few who have already signified their intention to join, it is particularly desired that a mixed chorus be formed and it is hoped that the men of the town will become interested. Wrangell should have a chorus of 30 voices. This chorus could be relied upon to furnish good music for any occasion that might arise. Those taking part would be amply repaid by the enjoyment which they would derive from the meetings of the society.

Hon. Cash Cole of Juneau was in Wrangell the first of the week. Mr. Cole spent a portion of his childhood in Wrangell, and that he still has many friends here was shown in the recent territorial election when the returns of the Wrangell precinct showed that he had led the ticket, receiving 31 votes more than the next highest man on the ticket.

Mail was taken to Ketchikan on the Hogue mail boat early Tuesday morning from Wrangell. It is doubtful if there would be any advantage in sending mail south at this time as the Jefferson appears to be the first southbound boat. This statement should be some consolation to those who missed the mail boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Flagstad left for the south Monday on the Seattle. Mr. Flagstad, who is engineer on the U. S. Fisheries boat, Osprey, took his first vacation in three years this year and will spend the entire period of three months in Seattle, where he and Mrs. Flagstad have relatives and friends.

G. L. Rich was a southbound passenger on the Seattle.

Wickersham Being Boosted For Governor

Cash Cole of Juneau was in Wrangell in the interest of the appointment of James Wickersham for governor of Alaska. Shortly after Mr. Cole's arrival in Wrangell Alex Vreath began circulating a petition for the appointment of Judge Wickersham as governor.

Almost 200 residents of Wrangell have signed the petition. James Wickersham was born in Patoka, Ill., August 24, 1857, and received a common school education. He was married to Miss Deborah S. Bell, of Rochester, Ill., October 27, 1880; was admitted to the bar in 1880; probate judge, Pierce county, Wash., 1884-8; city attorney, Tacoma, 1894; member Washington House of Representatives, 1898. In 1900 he was appointed United States District Judge for the Third District of Alaska. After holding the judgeship for seven years he resigned. He is the editor of Alaska Territorial Reports (law.) He has written many articles on ethnological subjects. In 1908 he was elected delegate to 61st Congress from Alaska. He was re-elected to the 62nd, 63rd, 64th and 65th Congresses.

In 1916 the election of delegate from Alaska resulted in a contest between Judge Wickersham and the late Charles A. Sulzer. Mr. Sulzer was seated, but before the close of the 65th Congress the contest was decided in Judge Wickersham's favor. In 1918 the election resulted in a contest between Judge Wickersham and Hon. George B. Grigsby. The contest is still pending in the 66th Congress with Mr. Grigsby holding a seat there. Should the contest be decided in Judge Wickersham's favor he will draw pay for the full term, the same as he did for the 65th Congress when Mr. Sulzer was seated.

The only other active aspirant for the appointment of governor of Alaska under President Harding is George Hazelet of Cordova. He has the unanimous endorsement of the Republican Club of Cordova. He also has the staunch support of the newspaper of his home town.

George Hazelet was among the early settlers of the town of Cordova where he is president of the townsite company and several public utilities. He has during the past two years been directing operations in the Bering river coal and oil fields, where eastern and Cordova capital has been expended. He was elected a delegate to the republican national convention in the April republican primary, and later was named by National Committeeman McBride as territorial committeeman for the Third judicial division.

Judge Wickersham, in an interview recently stated that he was opposed to the candidacy of Mr. Hazelet for governor.

It is said that those who are opposing Mr. Hazelet are, in the majority of cases, charging that he is identified with what is commonly termed the "Guggenheim interests," and that that in itself is just grounds for opposition.

JUNEAU—J. C. McBride, national committeeman, in speaking of the possible candidacy of Judge Wickersham, said: "That is news to me. I can only say as

School Notes

The seventh and eighth grades have been enlisted in manual training class. Mr. C. Carlson set the industrious lot to work clearing land back of the school shed in order to enlarge the school ground.

The Red Cross banner went again to Miss O'Conner's room for the highest percentage of attendance this month.

Next Friday at the assembly there will be a piano recital. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will hold a meeting on Thursday, Dec. 9. The program will be: Community singing led by Mrs. McLaughlin.

Report of National Educational Association at Salt Lake City—Miss Crosno.

Vocal solo—Mrs. McLaughlin. Recent Educational Legislation—Mrs. Wm. Paul.

Fred Gunderson

Friday afternoon, December 3, being the end of Better English Week, the High school gave a program at which English work was exhibited. The Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth grades, and the High School arranged their own work, displaying it on the walls and tables. The Senior High School's work contained short stories written by the pupils, and a newspaper, the "Wrangler." George Gunderson acted as managing editor of this paper. Marion Myers collected the news, Alfred Royalty told of the sports, and Helen Hofstad edited the society page. Original and clever cartoons and slogans, drawn by various pupils, decorated parts of the walls.

The program included a talk by Rev. H. P. Corser, a play, "The Trial for the Murder of the King's English," and a contrast in spelling matches. The one was a spelling match of about a hundred years ago when words were spelled by syllables, which was staged by the Seventh grade. This was entirely original, one of the actors taking the traditional part of a scholar by tormenting his teacher. The modern spelling match was given by the Senior High School vs. the Freshmen. This was original in so much as it took so short a time for lines to diminish. After a short struggle, in which both sides suffered heavily, the Seniors were victorious.

Donald Campbell, the engineer for the Wrangell Mining, Pulp & Paper Mfg., Co., left Tuesday for Port Snettisham on the cannery tender Harold. He was accompanied by W. D. Grant, and Steve Grant. The skipper is Captain L. A. Olson and the chief engineer is Wallace Sinclair. Mr. Campbell will remain at Port Snettisham for several days. The other members of the party will return at once. It is quite probable that in the near future there will be some interesting news concerning the Wrangell project.

Mrs. Ida Uhler recently received a letter from her daughter Miss Margaret Uhler, announcing her safe arrival in Shanghai, China. Miss Uhler reported having had a most pleasant voyage which included delightful visits in Japanese ports.

I have said before, regarding all candidates, that I have not recommended any man for appointment for any office."

Big Cannery Merger

The following salmon canning companies of Southeastern Alaska are incorporating as the Consolidated Salmon Packers; Alaska Pacific Fisheries at Tee Harbor; Annette Island Packing company, at Metlakatla; Alaska Sanitary Packing company at Wrangell and Cape Fanshaw; Astoria and Puget Sound Packing company at Excursion Inlet; Deep Sea Salmon company at Cape Edwards and Port Althorp; Petersburg Packing corporation, at Petersburg and Washington Bay; Point Warde Packing company at Point Warde; Sanborn Cutting company at Kake; and Sunny Point Packing company, at Ketchikan.

Many Seekers for Appointments to Territorial Offices

JUNEAU—Twenty-one men have filed their names and qualifications for major offices in the Territory with J. C. McBride, republican national committeeman.

The applications are as follows: For collector of customs, C. D. Garfield, M. S. Whittier and Cash Cole, all of Juneau; Surveyor General E. P. Kendall and Woodbury Abbey of Juneau; superintendent of pioneers home at Sitka, George W. Mock of Juneau. Territorial mine inspector; Jack Littlepage and W. B. Hargraves of Juneau. The office of Collector of Customs carries a salary of $5,000 a year.

First Division—For U. S. marshal; Jack Wilson of Treadwell, Ed. C. Russel of Seattle, John T. White of Juneau and Earle C. Jamieson, formerly of Juneau; for clerk of court: C. J. Woofter and Ray Stevens of Juneau.

Den o' Sweets

Newly Opened Confectionery Establishment Becoming Very Popular.

The Den O'Sweets, recently opened for business, is proving very popular. The attractive fountain can supply one with delectable combinations, pleasing to the eye and appealing to the taste. Cake and sandwiches and appetizing hot dishes and drinks that cannot fail to satisfy are served constantly. The home made candy has won regular customers. The Den O'Sweets is kept scrupulously clean, and is daintily attractive in all its appointments.

There will be no more meetings of St. Philip's Guild until the first Wednesday after New Year.

The Bridge Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bidwell last Friday evening.

Last night was the coldest so far this winter. The thermometer registered 49 above zero.

A. Vaughan, U. S. radio operator who was sent to Craig several weeks ago has returned to Wrangell and is again on the job at the local radio station.

The Ketchikan Chronicle reports that Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hibbs of Craig are registered at the Stedman hotel.

Hugo Schmolck returned last night from a two weeks' stay in Ketchikan.

The Jefferson sailed north from Seattle at 9 o'clock yesterday.

Weekly Budget Of Happenings About Town

Grover C. Foster came in from Lake Bay Saturday.

Emil Peterson went to Ketchikan on the Seattle Monday.

The Standard took a party of traveling men to Petersburg Tuesday.

Oscar Carlson has been appointed street and water commissioner for the town of Wrangell.

Mrs. J. H. Neville and Miss Elsie Sylvester returned from Ketchikan Tuesday evening.

H. F. Tierney, postmaster at Shakan and store-keeper for the Booth Fisheries, arrived in Wrangell Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilcox and children came in from the Towers camp Sunday evening and left for the States on the Seattle Monday.

I. C. Borge did valiant service with a snow plow attachment on his auto truck Tuesday morning after the first heavy snowfall of the season.

M. B. Dahl who was mild-curing at Sitka Bay during the past season was in Wrangell on business the first of the week. Mr. Dahl will leave shortly for Tacoma to spend Christmas with his family.

The Lazy Five is the name of a basketball team at Douglas. The Lazy Five of Wrangell should play a game with the Lazy Five of Douglas in order to determine which town has the laziest Lazy Five.

Miss Barbara Bronell, Miss Perquita Courtney and B. E. Mack, show people who gave vaudeville performances at the Rex Saturday and Sunday evenings, left for Ketchikan on the Seattle Monday night.

Mrs. Victor Johnson of Calder, H. F. Tierney of Shakan, Edward Phyrarch, Michael Moran, Chris Steve and John Zarth of Token were West Coast passengers for Wrangell on the Princess Pat Monday night.

Wm. Patterson, local agent for the Canadian Pacific, yesterday afternoon received a telegram announcing that the Princess Mary will resume the Alaska service, leaving Vancouver on December 11.

The Southeastern Alaska liner Jefferson will sail from Seattle on the following dates: Dec. 19, Jan. 1, 13. The sailing of this ship Dec. 19 will make her the Christmas ship to Southeastern Alaska points.

The Towers camp on Duncan canal closed down this week, for the winter. R. G. Harris who came in on the CC Monday night reports more than a foot of snow on the ground. Two men have been left in charge of the camp and one of the Towers boats will make trips to the canal from Wrangell at certain intervals.

Miss Ella Lee Woods who has been living in McMinnville, Oregon, for the past year and a half, is teaching school in Cherry Grove, Ore., this winter. She writes 10 Wrangell friends that Miss Ruth Lindman is taking the commercial course in the McMinnville high school and studying music in the Baptist College conservatory.

Rheumatic Pains

Quickly Eased By Penetrating
Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and effective preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out the soreness, and limbers up the stiff aching joints and muscles.

Wizard Oil is a good dependable preparation to have in the medicine chest for first aid when the doctor may be far away. You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for carache, toothache and croup. Always keep it in the house.

Generous size bottle 35c.
If you are troubled with constipation or sick headache try Hamlin's Wizard Liver Whips. Just pleasant little pink pills at druggists for 30c.

Caribou Behave Like Domestic Animals

J. C. Reynolds, who has a ranch on the right limit of O. K. gulch, says he shot a 50-pound buck caribou at his door. Numbers of caribou came right up to his barn and helped themselves to hay and grazed in the fields like sheep. Reynolds said that he had to get away back from them to shoot. It was too much like slaughter firing at them at so close a range.—Dawson News.

News Notes From All Over The Northland

William Patterson and Mrs. Emma Johnson were married at Seward last week.

The Ketchikan postoffice will be moved from its old location to the new concrete bank building.

Fred Tibbo, proprietor of a cigar store in Seward, was recently arrested and fined $500 for selling home brew over his bar.

To protect pedestrians, a movement is on foot to have all teams hauling sleighs provided with bells at Dawson and vicinity.

The Seward Gateway claims that a slicker blew into that town a short time ago with a lot of marked cards and loaded dice and cleaned up $7,000 in a day and beat it.

Captain L. O. Colbert, who spent the summer of 1916 in Wrangell in the service of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been elected to membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Lennie Engstrom, who visited in Douglas at one time with his brother, Adolph Engstrom, was a headliner in a boxing bout at Wrangell recently under the auspices of the Arctic Brotherhood.—Douglas Dispatch.

A joint indictment was returned this morning, by the grand jury against Alfred Lott and Joe Luna, charged with larceny in a dwelling.—Ketchikan Chronicle.

Howard Ashley, master mechanic for the White Pass & Yukon railway, and Miss Agnes C. Moffat, assistant postmaster at Skagway, were married at that city on Thanksgiving eve.

A new electric siren at Skagway is installed on a forty-foot scaffold and is operated by turning a switch in the telephone central. It is said that the siren makes a noise that can be heard against the hardest wind.

The superintendent of schools at Ketchikan has issued notice to the pupils that smoking on the way to or from school or about the school will not be permitted. The penalty for the first offense will be suspension for one day and for the second offense the pupil will be expelled for the rest of the school year.

A Ketchikan lady visiting at Syracuse, N. Y., writes to friends at her home town stating that libelous articles are being printed in Eastern papers about Alaska. One article stated that every town is full of vacant houses and that all mines and other industries are closing down.

Curious Cities in the World.

Some curious cities of the world are told about in Leslie's. Among them is the remarkable town of Curva, Bolivia, built entirely on a curved mountain top. One of the most peculiarly located towns in the world is this one, most aptly named Curva. It is situated high in the Bolivian Andes and is entirely confined to the top of a hill. In Patagonia, at the southern extremity of South America, lumber of any kind is extremely scarce, says Detroit News. So the town of Puerta Madryn, 338 miles from Buenos Aires, is constructed entirely of tin and zinc. These are brought down from the capital and are much cheaper building materials than lumber. The houses, roofs and walls are built of metal; the fences also are constructed of it, with a wooden frame. The curious town of Newcastle, Jamaica, is located on the side of a hill in such a way that none of the houses are on the same level. Even in the graveyard, every tombstone is higher or lower than its neighbors.

Romance of Solway Firth.

That shallow, dreary yet romantic stretch of waters, the Solway firth, has many a legend of ghost ships connected with it. A hundred years ago, on the eve before Christmas a merry bridal party set out in one of the small craft peculiar to the Solway to be ferried across to the Scottish side. All went well until midstream, when a sailing vessel came beating down the firth and crashed into the boat, throwing the party into the water. Despite their cries for help the vessel continued its course, and the bride and bridegroom with their friends met a watery grave. It is said that the sailing vessel was manned by a rival of the bridegroom, who so revenged himself. Anyhow, an apparition of the boat is said to appear at times, manned by the fleshless ghost of the murderer.

Light Unto Deluded Girlhood.

The men, if questioned, all will say the girls they hope to wed some day must, above all, be perfect cooks—no matter if they are short on looks. Their clothes must be severe and plain and all their actions sound and sane. But when these men pick out their wives, each mother's son of them connives to wed a pretty form and face who feeds him naught but mayonnaise. He passes up the paragon, and to a dimpled chin succumbs. So girls, if you are hunting beaux keep lots of powder on your nose. Your sister who is making pies had better learn to use her eyes. "The way to a man's heart," you hear, "is through his stomach," but I fear successful ones, you will observe, have reached it through the optic nerve.—New York Evening Telegram.

Pigeons in European Cities.

The pigeons of London are one of the sights to which the attention of visitors is always drawn. St. Paul's churchyard is a great place of gathering, and here the birds flock down for the midday meal spread for their benefit. They feed out of the hands of their benefactors, perch on their shoulders, and flap and glitter in the sunshine as they fly up and down. Pigeons seem to belong to certain places. Admiralty arch is another favorite resort, but all over the city the birds have small colonies, and crowds of faithful friends. In Venice and in Florence the pigeons are as much a part of the picture as the greatest buildings, a finishing touch, as it were, with which nobody can dispense.

Calamity on the Farm.

Harold was better acquainted with automobiles than with horses, his knowledge of the latter being chiefly confined to the delivery wagon and truck horses that he saw pass through the alley behind his apartment house home. Therefore the horses at his grandfather's farm were a source of great interest to him and he was with John, the hired man, as much as possible during the two weeks of his visit to the country. When one morning John turned the horses out into the lot and one of the animals laid down and rolled over, Harold rushed to the house in great excitement. "Oh, grandpa, old Bob's turned turtle! Old Bob's turned turtle!"

Tennis 300 Years Old.

It may be claimed that lawn tennis is at least three centuries old, having been played in 1591 when Queen Elizabeth was entertained at Elvetham, in Hampshire, by the earl of Hertford. Strutt, quoting from Nichol's "Progress of Queen Elizabeth," tells us that "after dinner, about 3 o'clock, ten of his lordship's servants, all Somersetshire men, in a square green court, before her majesty's window, did hang up lines, squaring out the form of a tennis court and making a cross line in the middle. In this square they, being stripped of their doublets, played, five to five, with handball to the great liking of her highness."

Cost of Wives.

What is the market in wives? It is said that among the Alnus the price of one is a bear ham. The Kafir figures variously from four to eight oxen, according to the competition for the particular bride. A score of cartridges buys a wife in Uganda, and the Australian black gives the weight of his better half in butter, while the Tartars in Turkestan get as many wives as they want at the rate of a box of matches each. In Wales wives are given away—they are paid for afterward, mostly in weekly installments.—Cardiff Western Mail.

Millions in Appropriations Are Asked for Alaska

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.—Alaska figures heavily in the estimates of the Government departments for the fiscal year 1922 which were submitted to Congress today and made public. Sums never before asked for the Territory are wanted now to carry on all work in the North, including railroads, roads, waterways, law enforcement, mining and other projects.

The Alaskan Engineering commission this year asks for only four million dollars, as against seven million last year. It is estimated that the work can be carried along more economically and on a smaller scale now that the road is nearing completion. The largest individual appropriation for any one project is that of $403,000 for the construction of the railroad bridge across the Tanana river.

The army asks for $995,000 to carry on the construction of roads and trails, feeders to the railroad and to the waterways of the territory. There are also a number of bridges to be built. Last year the road commission estimate was only $350,000 and that was cut down. It is believed, however, that this year Congress will lend a more attentive ear to the needs of Alaska.

For the maintenance of the Alaska Military cable and telegraph system, an appropriation of $212,434 is asked.

The navy wants a million dollars to carry on coal mining operations in the Matanuska district.

For the governor of Alaska, the Department of the Interior asks a salary of $7,500, together with $11,000 for expenses. This is an increase over last year.

One of the comprehensive programs outlined is that of the lighthouse service which asks for $185,000 for a station at Cape Spencer; $125,000 for new aids to navigation including lights at Guard Island and Pt Retreat; $80,000 to complete the lighthouse depot at Ketchikan.

Of the lump sum asked for the lighthouse service, it proposes the installation of two gas buoys, nineteen automatic lights, and $10,000 is asked to improve Communication Harbor.

The Forest Service estimates that it will require $7,983 for Chugach forest and $15,224 for tee Tongass forest care.

The Biological survey wants $75,000 for the protection of land fur animals.

For the Boundary Survey $55,000 is asked and the Geological survey wants $190,000 for investigating the mineral resources, while the Bureau of Mines asks for an appropriation of $75,000 for the securing of a site and the erection of a building for the station at Fairbanks.

To educate the Natives, the Bureau of Education asks for $419,000, and $125,000 for relief work and $5,000 for vocational education.

One hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars is asked for the care of insane; $15,000 for reindeer stations; $62,540 for the protection of game; and $30,000 for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

The Sisters and Brothers hall has been given extensive repairs during the past week and presents a greatly improved appearance.

Following the reception to Adjutant and Mrs. Carruthers it was found that there were several unclaimed plates. Owners may get same by calling at Sentinel office.

The Ketchikan postoffice will be moved from its old location to the new concrete bank building.

TOLD BY THE FINGERS

Fat fingers are lazy fingers.
Extremely lean figures denote penuriousness.
Orderly folk, strong minded, have square fingers.
Thumbs that bend up are those of the curious minded.
Large fingers mean slow intellect and ordinary tastes.
Celebrities have a third finger that leans toward the fourth.
The conqueror has a second finger that leans toward the first.
Fingers that are all the same length are those of a dishonest person.
Fortune and influence follow where the second finger leans toward the third.
Very pointed fingers indicate imagination and exaggeration and religious fervor.
It is a sign of a weak mind to sit with the thumbs turned in and held by the fingers.
A coarse, brutal nature is detected through fingers as large at the tips as at the roots.
Fingers that are small but not thin are found with a clever, acute mind, and one somewhat given to deceit.
Short fingers denote amiability, an easy going disposition, a smooth, easy talker, but lacking the power of deep thought or study.
A generous nature is revealed by fingers that curl upward. If they curve downward, it indicates a niggardly nature.

SOME OLD SAWS

That a man's best servants are his ten fingers.
That an ounce of assistance is worth a pound of advice.
That many a man who knows what is right lacks the courage to do it.
That the light of happiness is often shut out by the shadow of suspicion.
That introducing a happy man to a pessimist is like shaking a red rag at a bull.
That it is a waste of time to grasp an opportunity unless you know what to do with it.
That you cannot do anything in the world, achieve any success, unless you believe in yourself.
That one can judge a man more surely by what he says of others than by what others say of him.
That few men succeed because they are naturally brilliant. Success is due usually to persistence, determination, and ambition.
That the idealist knows exactly where he wants to go, but he has no means of getting there; the practical person gets there, and then finds that he is in the wrong place.
That he who can heroically endure adversity will bear prosperity with equal greatness of heart; for the mind that cannot be deflected by the former is not likely to be transported with the latter.

ARKANSAS THOMAS 'SCATS

Society is composed of two sets; the Quick, who are very fast, and the Deadly.
A girl should remember that the man who wants to kiss her against her will wouldn't want to kiss her if he thought she was willing.
It can't be did! Of his hard luck you hear him bleat—And Fate he wants to blame—And yet the Sucker tries to beat—The Other Fellow's game.

Jack May, who has been trying to raise chickens in his cellar, has lost a great many on account of the cellar being flooded after every big rain. He's decided to try his hand at ducks.

The indescribably dainty aroma that clings to the girl you are courting is one of Dan Cupid's best allies. But five years of married life will surround her with an aroma of strong lye soap, fried onions and stale coffee.

OLD FIELD STONES

The ex-kaiser missed it by not cleaning his plots to the garden.
The American pig pen proved mightier than the German sword.
The farmer who cultivates thought has sharpened his tools for the harvest.
Peter Tumbledown farmers are the fellows who always regarded new ideas as "tomfoolery."
More landscaping on the farm will lessen the desire of girls and boys to "escape" to the city.

Mazola fried 24½ pounds of potatoes —lard fried only 7 pounds 14 ounces!

THAT Mazola is a better and more economical frying fat than lard has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery.

Mrs. Andrea found that 4 lbs. of Mazola, cooked down to 2 lbs., fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes. While 4 lbs. of lard cooked down to 2 lbs. fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. potatoes.

Tested on fish steaks, one inch in thickness, Mazola fried 25½ lbs., while lard fried only 16½ lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts cut uniformly 2¾ inches in diameter, Mazola fried 208, while lard fried only 138.

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

No housewife who wants to use the most wholesome, as well as the most economical cooking and salad oil, should fail to order Mazola from her grocer today.
